Tokuno Attacked! Blue
Lotus Taken!

On Monday Evening the Blue Lotus Dojo in Zento, Tokuno was surrounded by Mondainites and their allies. The Mondainites demanded information about someone named Dark Fool, and when the Blue Lotus Soke insisted the Mondainites leave due to orders by the Empress of Tokuno, rather than leave the Mondainites attacked. Unlike the last attack by the Mondainites and Empire of Armageddon, this time, they were successful in taking a captive. It is believed that the Blue Lotus fully intends to unleash the might of the Empire of Tokuno upon the Temple of Mondain in retaliation for this act.
Meanwhile, High Priest Meneldur claims that the Blue Lotus member was taken captive in order to force the Blue Lotus to return a child named Loric who he claims the Blue Lotus Kidnapped with the aid of Dark Fool.

Our sources have discovered that Dark Fool is in fact an Atalan from the Last Order of Atalan, and "brother" of Poet, who was a Dark Lord of the Temple of Mondain.

Valeryx, the Lord of Dracona, has offered the assistance of the City-State of Dracona to the Blue Lotus against the Mondainites. This is an unusual action by the usually reclusive Lord of Dracona.

Atalan find a piece of Equinox!

On Wednesday evening, the forces of Britannia bravely stood against the Atalan on the island of Jhelom. But the Atalan fought like Demons, driven by their search for an artifact.

This reporter found one of the Atalan at the Horse's Head Tavern in Jhelom, and after a number of drinks that would have pickled a normal man, he finally yielded up some interesting information.
The artifact that they are searching for is actually a number of pieces of the sword Equinox. Equinox was the weapon wielded by the dark Atalan god, Moraithin. It is said to be half-fire, half-ice, and incredibly powerful.
Through it can be channeled the power of Moraithin without the risk. I tried to find out what risk the Atalan was referring to, but he passed out and I couldn't get anymore information out of him.

I have heard of the fallen Atalan god, Tenebrous, who also stylizes himself as Atalan Emperor, but not Moraithin. Anyone who has information leading to the current location of Arman Kharas, the Atalan Scholar, we would appreciate it greatly if they would come forward.
